

EDI Laws & Regulations

The State of Tennessee has been a mandatory EDI state since July 1, 2003. The first report of injury and all subsequent reports are to be filled through an electronic data interface directly with the State of Tennessee.

The State of Tennessee requires all first report of injuries or (C-20) be electronically filled with their agency within 14 days of the date of injury or date of knowledge. This includes:

- (C-20)- First report of work injury.
- (C-21)- Monthly report of Noncompensable Injuries.
- (C-22)- Notice of first payment
- (C-23)- Notice of denial.
- (C-26)- Notice of change/termination of benefits.
- (C-29)- Notice of final payment.

All C-20 and C-22 claims have to be filed electronically. Mailed or faxed copies are no longer accepted.

QRM's Solution to Your EDI Troubles

QRM's expertise in providing these services for other states resulted in the State of Tennessee choosing QRM to assist with the pilot program and development when filings became mandatory in July 2003.

To file claims electronically with the State you must be a licensed vendor and have a trading partner profile filed with the state. Since QRM is a licensed vendor and has the trading partner profile in place with the State, QRM can eliminate all the guess work on your side.

With over 7 years of experience and a rejection ratio of less than 1%, QRM is the answer for filing claims electronically.

Using QRM to file all your Tennessee EDI claims means quality performance, experienced staff, compliance to state regulations, and confidence that every claim gets the same attention.

Why is QRM the Answer?

As Tennessee's largest privately owned and fastest growing claim intake center, QRM has quickly become an industry leader throughout the nation by providing dependable, high performance and cost effective services, and developing a strong commitment to a service first partnership with our customers.

By integrating state-of-the-art technology with the highest level of security features, our enhanced reporting options, financial stability, professional integrity and more than 25 years of industry experience, along with an array of specialized custom services, QRM is the best choice to the insurance industry for providing all your claim intake needs.
